ENABLING ACT FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY

Senate Sets Williams Bill As Special and Continuing Order.

FINAL VOTE THAT DAY

Opponents of Measure Promise There Will be No Filibustering—Want to End Matter Quickly.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 30.—By this time next week the Senate will probably have recorded its vote on the enabling act, the upper house having decided to consider the measure next Wednesday, February 4. It was stated on the floor of the upper branch of the assembly that a vote could probably be reached before adjournment that day.

The Senate by a vote of 21 to 19 refused to take up the measure today. The resolution of opponents of the measure to postpone consideration until next week prevailed over strong opposition from supporters of the bill. The vote may or may not indicate how the senators will vote on the final passage of the bill.

While it has been freely stated that the bill will be defeated, and it has been recommended adversely, it is said that neither side is making any rash claims. Observers say that the amendments to the measure might change the original line-ups in the Senate, but that the House would probably vote down the amended measure even though it passed the senate.

Messrs. Walker and Mapp led the fight to have the vote taken on the bill today, but their failed in their efforts.

Mr. Holt, when the House bill was reached on the calendar, moved that the bill be made a special and continuing order for next Wednesday at 12:30 o'clock. He said that if the advocates of the bill would agree to that there would be no objection, no delay and nothing to prevent its consideration and final vote at that time.

In the course of his remarks on the bill Mr. Holt explained that the people of the State had not yet had a chance to consider all the amendments that had been offered in committee, and it was desired that members might be given a chance to hear from their constituents in a matter of so much importance.

The bill had only been ordered printed Wednesday, and there were members on the floor who had not yet read the bill over in its entirety. He saw no good to be accomplished by rushing the bill. The date suggested would give all a show to hear from their people and to be in a position to vote, said Mr. Holt.

He declared that what was now considered the minority could delay the matter by filibustering, but that nothing of the sort would be attempted. He said that the time fixed was asked by the opponents of the measure, with the belief that it would be passed at that time.

That was the first reference heard on the floor of the Senate as the possible fate of the bill. When Mr. Holt made that statement there were many in the gallery who sat up suddenly and took notice of the expression.

Continuing, Mr. Holt said that it was more than likely that other amendments would be offered, certainly after the bill had been read over with care. He desired to have the bill perfected as nearly as possible. He again assured the advocates of the bill that there was no disposition to delay the voting.

"Why, these amendments have not been read by the people of Accomac," said Mr. Holt, looking at Mr. Mapp, the senator from that district.

"Does the gentleman from Newport News undertake to speak for the county of Accomac?" asked Mr. Mapp.

Mr. Mapp then declared that the same conditions obtaining now would obtain on Wednesday. They would also obtain today. What good could be accomplished by delaying the matter? The principles were the same as those of two years ago, and people of the State understood them perfectly. Why not take up the bill tomorrow and get it out of the way? He believed that the mind of every senator was made up on the issue and that all hands were ready to vote.

Mr. Cannon, of Richmond, declared that he had lain eyes on the bill but a few moments before the motion of Mr. Holt was made, and that he had been able to scane it perfunctorily. He believed that there were other important amendments that should be offered, and he desired to submit some remarks on the measure. However, rather than to obstruct or hinder the matter, he would refrain in order that the bill might be passed on Wednesday.

Mr. Mapp declared that three times during the day he had been called from the floor of the Senate by persons who were urging him to vote for and against the bill. It was inviting trouble to delay.

Mr. Cannon replied that for the very reasons assigned by the Senator from Accomac (Mr. Mapp) it was necessary to give the matter full and complete consideration. He said that assurance had been given that the opponents of the bill would not interfere with its consideration next Wednesday.

Mr. Walker, of Northumberland, declared that he was surprised at the attitude of the members of the Senate who were opposed to the bill.

There had been a general agreement that the best thing to do was to get the bill out of the way, all hands agreeing by common consent, that this was the proper course to pursue. He had listened patiently for a reason for the reason, as he said, for delaying the matter. If one could be advanced and he had not heard one he would vote for making the bill a special order for Wednesday.

He asked for one reason to be advanced. He had not heard one reason advanced for delaying the bill. Every member of the Senate knew its provisions.

"It has been before the people for years," he said, "and there was not the least reason to believe that there was a member in the senate who had not made up his mind on the matter.

"There has been a general desire to get rid of the matter and to get it out of the way of other legislation. What reason could there be given for not voting Friday?

"The Senator from Richmond (Mr. Canoon), said he had not read the amended bill with care, and yet he had said that he wanted to make a speech thereon."

With the single exception of the senator from Richmond, he stated he did not believe there was a man who was not ready to vote, who did not know all that the bill contained.

"Certainly by Friday he could read it over, and prepare all the amendments," declared Mr. Walker.

He asked that the opponents of the bill take the senate into their confidence and givce the real reason for asking for a delay till Wednesday.

"Why not take up the bill at once? What is there so magical about the word Wednesday? It must be that some reason which would inure to the benefit of the opponents was behind the move," and he would like to know, he said," what it is. He repeated that if any valid reason could be advanced he stood ready to acquiesce in the wishes of the senator from Newport News.

The calendar, he declared, is in excellent condition. Just the same condition may not exist Friday. He believed that a full vote is necessary, and he favored giving every man a chance to cast his ballot. There would be a full membership on hand Friday. Why not take the bill up and get rid of it for good and all?"

Senator Hart opposed the motion to consider the bill, and the motion of Senator Mapp, made as an amendment to that of Senator Holt, was defeated by the following recorded vote:

Ayes—Blanks, Bowers, Buchanan, Crockett, Early, Echols, Edmondson, Featherston, Gayle, Gravatt, Mapp, Moncure, Rinehart, Royall, Saunders, Smith, Tavenner, Walker and west—19.

Noes—Brock, Gannon, Carton, Drewery, Fletcher, Garrett, Harman, Hart, Holiba, Holt, Lesner, Massie, Mantogue, Pare Paul, Paxton, Rison, Sowder, Thornton, Watkins, Wendenburg—21.

The vote then recurred on the motion of Senator Holt, and it was agreed to without division.

RAISING MONEY FOR THE WOMEN

Ready to Give Helping Hand to Occupants of Red Light District.

HOUSE-TO-HOUSE CALL

Many Campaigners at Work in Washington—Expect $10,000 by Tonight—Furniture Sacrificed.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The canvass for the $25,000 fund with which the National Social Welfare League proposes to establish a garment factory, wherein the women of Washington's underworld may find employment after the Kenyon bill is signed by President Wilson, spread to private homes and public buildings throughout the city today.

More than 100 experienced "campaigners," working under the direction of Stanley Finch, are making the canvass. They expect to receive contributions amounting to at least $10,000 before the day's work is done, Mr. Finch declares.

While the work for the fund continues the inhabitants of the segregated district continue preparations to leave places they know as "home." Second-hand furniture dealers and bargain hunters, realizing that sacrifices would be made by the women to obtain ready cash, invaded the section early this morning and are spending the day negotiating for furniture, pictures and other household effects.

What yesterday were luxuriously furnished dens are today in many instances bare rooms. Few of the women have left the houses, according to the police. They will not do so until the red light bill becomes a law.

President Wilson will sign the bill before Thursday if he signs it at all. Mr. Finch and others intersted in the welfare of the women, believe. Should the President decide not to sign the measure, it will automatically become a law Friday, ten days from the day it was passed by Congress. Mr. Finch explained this morning.

Coincident with the campaign being conducted by the corps of solicitors of the league, a post card subscription appeal is being made, the theaters being used as a medium of distributing the appeals.

With every program in more than a dozen of the motion pictures and vaudeville houses these post cards setting forth the need of money to take care of the women are being distributed by ushers and doorkeepers.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, of the Florence Crittenton Mission, who plans to care for the women by another method—that of giving them a home at the mission, finding them employment, and in other ways seeking their reformation—made an address at a meeting at the Foundry M. E. Church last night. She explained her experiences with the women of the underworld and outlined the mission's plan to care for the prospective exiles.

PLANNING FOR PARADE.

George Washington Birthday Association Will Meet Again Tonight.

Plans for the parade to be given on February 23rd, by the George Washington Birthday Association are rapidly nearing completion, and when the committee meets tonight it is expected that the complete program will be announced. The finance committee has met with considerable encouragement from the business houses of the city, it being stated that more than one-half of the funds necessary to pay the expenses of the celebration have been subscribed.

The response has been much more general that for any former parade and the people of the city seem almost to a man to endorse the work of the Association. Many who have never before contributed have volunteered their contributions and practically all of the regular contributors have largely increased the amount heretofore given.

AVERSE TO INCORPORATION.

Monster Mass Meeting at Rosslyn Last Night.

Alexandria County, at a monster mass meeting in the historic courthouse at Rosslyn, last night gave the world to understand the following things:

"We want no calamity howlers.

"We want no one to shame the good old name of our county by speaking of impending danger of pestilence and epidemics, or by saying that our wells are drying up."

"We do not want to be incorporated.

"We want to keep our present commission form of government, under which we have prospered and flourished unto this day.

"We have the healthiest, the best governed, the most prosperous, and the most contented county in the State of Virginia.

"We want things to remain as they are."

All of which assertions were made in enthusiastic speeches by Crandal Mackey, George H. Rucker, clerk of the court; Attorney Frank Lyon, John G. Dudley, C. T. Jesse, T. C. Turnburte, and Dr. H. C. Corbett, county health officer.

And thus did the proposition advanced of late that Alexandria county become incorporated and change its form of government, blow up in smoke, like an "idle pipe dream," as some of the speakers put it.

There was but one dissenting vote, namely, that of Richard Moncure, a Rosslyn attorney. Mr. Moncure drew a gloomy picture of the country's future. He predicted epidemics, plagues, and pestilences. He denounced the present water and sewerage system as "absolutely inadequate."

Railway Gives Bond.

The Washington-Southern Railway Company yesterday gave bond to the State Corporation Commission as a result of the writ of error granted in the Telegraph Road case by the Supreme Court on Wednesday. The Railway gave $100 bond for the appeal and $250 bond for the supersedeas, with the Virginia Trust Company as security in both instances. The writ granted by the Supreme Court means that no move will be made toward the elimination of the dangerous grade crossing at Telegraph Road just outside of Alexandria until an opinion has been rendered.

EARLY MORNING MARINE DISASTER

Steamer Monroe, of Old Dominion Line, Plunges to Bottom of Sea.

FORTY-SEVEN DROWN

Rammed by Nantucket of Same Line—Wireless Calls Received and Steamers Rush to Scene.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—Forty-seven persons are missing and are believed to have been drowned off the Eastern Shore peninsula early this morning.

There is a great hole torn in her bows and a half dozen vessels are standing by ready to take off the ship's company in case the inrush of water disables her.

The Monroe, about twice as large as the Nantucket, carried fifty passengers and a crew of eighty-four. She was bound for New York. Eighty-five survivors of the Monroe are now on their way here aboard the Merchants' and Miners' boat.

A small crew and only two passengers were aboard the Nantucket at the time of the crash.

The collision occurred at 1:40 o'clock in the midst of a fog, said by mariners here to have been the thickest in twenty years.

A few minutes later the wireless station picked up the "S. O. S." signals of both the Monroe and the Nantucket. Fainter and fainter grew the calls of the former ship and at 2:15 the Nantucket flashed that the Old Dominion liner had settled into the waves.

All the passengers and most of the crew of the Monroe were tumbled into lifeboats and on to rafts immediately after the shock.

Capt. E. E. Johnson, according to meager reports, remained on the bridge of the sinking vessel until dragged into a lifeboat by First Officer G. Horsely.

Shortly after 6 o'clock this morning the Nantucket stopped sending messages. It is believed that the half a dozen tugs rushed from here before 5 o'clock may have met her off Winter Quarter and are now at work repairing the great hole ripped in her bows. It is not believed that she will reach this port until late this afternoon.

Several other steamers are reported standing by to take off the survivors in case the wrecking tugs are unable to check the flow of water into her hold, already heavy with the influx of the waves.

Those who perished are believed to have been trapped in their staterooms when the Monroe plunged.

Shortly before 2 o'clock the faint crackle of the "S. O. S." emergency signal of the wireless was picked up at the local navy yard. It bore an appeal for help from the Monroe. Before reply could be made the emergency call was repeated, this time from the Nantucket.

"Come at once, we are sinking," was the burden of the call. The big revenue cutter Onondaga, lying at her anchorage, also caught the signal.

"Where are you we will come," sparked out the reply.

Back came the answer that the Monroe and Nantucket had met, almost head-on, about twenty-five miles south of Hogg Island and to the eastward of Great Machepongo Inlet light house.

While the wireless operator was locating the scene of the wreck the stokers and engine crew of the revenue cutter had been routed from their hammocks and within a few moments after the exact location had been ascertained the Onondaga was headed out of the Capes, her fireroom force doubled and her boilers operating on forced draught.

A few minutes later the big wrecking tug T. J. Merritt had followed, and within ten minutes came a wireless report from the captain of the Old Dominion liner Hamilton, sister ship of the Monroe, saying that he was rushing to the scene as fast as the engines would carry his ship.

iFrst, the Monroe was called. Then the Nantucket.

Bu it was nearly an hour before any reply was received. Then the information was exasperatingly meager.

The Monroe had sunk.

At least forty-four of her complement were missing. The remainder were on the Nantucket, which had herself received almost a death blow.

There were forty-five cabin and six steerage passengers on the Monroe when Captain Johnson ordered her lines cast off and she cleared from her berth here last night. The vesel was considered one of the stauchest of the Old Dominion fleet, the equipment contained all of the latest modern appliances, and her commander had an enviable record as a careful navigator. The unprecedented warm weather that has prevailed for the last week has been responsible for dense fogs, and the lookout on the steamer was doubled even ebfore she was clear of this harbor.

MINISTERS FLEECED.

The ministers of Western Maryland were fleeced out of a considerable amount of money, some time in December, by a man representing himself as C. Edward Hill, attorney at law, Alexandria, Va. It has been discovered that he is travelling under an assumed name. He is a man about thirty-two years of age, rather stout, black hair and eyes, and seems well acquainted with people of Alexandria, Falls Church and the Theological Seminary. He registered at the hotel here from Baltimore, and left without paying his bill and also gave his name as Taylor to several of the people. His plea was that he had lost his money and wanted enough for car fare home. Efforts have been made to locate him, but as yet they have failed. I am writing this in hopes he may be caught somewhere at his game, as he seems to be working especially on Episcopal ministers, and also taking them in order, from one place to another. He represents himself as a graduate of the University of Virginia, class of 1905. He is six feet tall, or more Kindly publish this for the protection of other clergymen.

WILSON CALMS TROUBLED WATER

No Crisis in Foreign Relations Unless in Situation in Mexico.

CHRONIC TROUBLES.

Executive Says The Only Discussion With Japan is How to Promote Closer Friendship.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—President Wilson has outlined informally the status of those problems of American diplomacy which have been brought into the foreground of public attention by his recent conference with the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. He reiterated with emphasis that no crisis was at hand in any of the questions he had discussed, unless the Mexican situation could be construed as in the nature of a perpetual crisis, fraught always with the possibility of sudden change or unexpected developments.

In divulging some of the more important facts concerning American foreign policy the President sounded a warning against unwarranted speculation in the press on foreign questions, indicating that government's frequently were embarrased by unfounded reports.

The President made it clear that, while he had taken up the relations with Mexico, Japan, Great Britain and the general arbitration treaties at the same time with the Senators, these problems were not grouped together as having any bearing on the Mexican situation. He regarded them as inter-related only in so far as he wished the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to take them under consideration, so as to form a judgment on all of the points involved.

With respect to Mexico, the President let it be known that the only settled part of his policy at present was to continue the course of watchful waiting, but that this was a day-to-day conviction with him, subject to developments in the revolution-torn republic.

He has not yet made up his mind to lift the embargo on arms, but is considering carefully the arguments for and against such a course. He does not hesitate to admit that, thus far, the practical operation of the denial of arms to both factions has been to prevent the Constitutionalists from getting munitions of war from their only external source—the American border—while the Huerta government with its seaports, is able to purchase from foreign governments generally.

In this connection, the President pronounced as absolutely false the report that the Japanese government was supplying munitions of war to the Huerta government. This was inquired into several months ago by Ambassador Guthrie at Tokyo, who learned that one shipment of arms had gone to Mexico from a Japanese commercial house and that another consignment was to be sent next February.

The President made it clear that the United States had never asked Japan or any other nation to restrict exportations of arms to Mexico, knowing that this government possessed no such right under the law of nations, and that special legislation would have to be enacted by each country to prohibit commercial transactions, similar to the joint resolution of March 14, 1912, in the American Congress.

MESSAGE ON RURAL CREDITS.

Governor Mann Will Call Attention of General Assembly to This Problem.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 30.—Governor Mann to ay sent to the General Assembly a special message dealing with problems of an extension of rural credits. This is a subject which has deeply interested the Governor and is deemed by him to be of such importance that it is worthy of special consideration. The message was brief and urged concrete action by Virginia.

The Governor requests the General Assembly to regard carefully the steps now being taken by the Federal government for the establishment of a satisfactory system of rural credits in this country. The Governor urged that Virginia be not backward cooperating at every point possible, and that the General Assembly augment the Federal statute wherever advisable.

There has already been introduced at this session of the General Assembly a bill providing for an extension of rural credits based upon the system in vogue in Europe. The European system is not regarded by Governor Mann as the most desirable on account of its intricate machinery, which, says the Governor, tends to creat friction and hamper the usefulness of the system. The message comments unfavorably on the European rural credit scheme.

RED MEN MEET AT FEAST

Fourth Annual Banquet of Seminole Tribe, No. 35, Held Last Night

The fourth annual banquet of Seminole Tribe, No. 35, Improved Order of Red Men, was held last night at the Hotel Rammel and as had been anticipated, was an enjoyable affair. About 200 members of the order attended. R. C. Sullivan, past sachem, was toastmaster. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. Edgar Carpenter.

Toasts were responded to as follows: "Trailing the Forest of Life," Rev. C. R. Strausburg; "Freedom, Friendship, and Charity," H. Noel Garner; "The Red Men of the Past and Present," Rev. Edgar Carpenter; "Fraternalism," Past Sachem Louis P. Woodward; "Timely Errors," W. S. Nicklin, past sachem of Virginia. "Wit and Humor," by Past Sachem J. William May.

The banquet committee was composed of R. C. Sullivan, chairman; C. C. Brawner, and N. L. Williamson.

Officers of the association are: John W. Schofield, sachem; H. H. Newton, senior sagamore; C. R. Simpson, junior sagamore; F. C. Glasgow, prophet; E. L. Finks, K. of W.; N. L. Williamson, C. of W.; George K. Bender, C. of R.

Seminole Tribe is composed mostly of young warriors, and the organization is showing its ability to do what our ancestors failed to do—making an Alexandria institution of a second tribe of Red Men. Half a century or more ago War Eagle Tribe of Red Men was organized in Alexandria, but its course was soon run, and for many years subsequent but one tribe remained in Alexandria—the time honored Osceola Tribe. A few years ago Seminole Tribe was organized and its growth has been vigorous.

BIRRELL HAS LAW AMENDED.

Postmaster to be Eligible for Member of Board of Health.

A bill was passed by the House of Delegates yesterday which makes Dr. W. M. Smith, newly appointed postmaster, of this city, eligible for membership of the State Board of Health. The measure was introduced by Mr. Birrell .

On motion of Mr. Birrell, the House Committee on General Laws was discharged from consideration of Senate bill No. 109, which permits Dr. Smith to continue to serve on the State Board of Health. Under the old statute federal appointees were prohibited from serving on State boards. The new law provides that the law in question shall not operate to prevent any United States postmaster from being a member of the State Board of Health, and that the office of no member of the State Board of Health shall be vacated by reason of his appointment as postmaster." The constitutional readings were dispensed with and the bill put on its passage and passed.

BIG CROWD AT LYCEUM

Ladies' Night Under Auspices of Fitzgerald Council, Knights of Columbus

The first of a series of entertainments to be given during the next few months by Fitzgerald Council, No. 459, Knights of Columbus, took place last night at the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum. There was a large gathering and it was the concensus of opinion that it was one of the most pleasant entertainments of the season.

The stage was decorated with flags, ferns and palms, while a picture of Columbus was suspended above the platform. Following the exercises refreshments were served and there was dancing.

A musical program was given by the boy's choir of St. Paul's Church, Washington. Solos were given by Mr. Fitzgerald, of Washington, and M. E. Greener of this city.

An interesting event of the evening was an address by Representative M. K. Reilly, of Wisconsin. M. J. McFarland, chairman of the entertainment committee, introduced the speaker, who is a past state deputy of the order. Mr. Reilly set forth the fundamental principles of "true knighthood" The carrying out of these principles, he declared, is the duty of every member of the order regardless of his vocation. The speaker told of how many well-thinking people have abused ideas regarding the Catholic Church, because of their unfamiliarity with its teachings. "The great battle today," he said, "is between believers and non-believers."

Another pleasant feature was a short talk from a full-blooded Indian, member of the Knights of Columbus who was among the visitors. Among other things he said that when about nine years old be felt disposed to run from a white man. He now felt like running towards him.

VICTORY O'ER THE GRAVE.

E. H . Thomson, of Washington, to Speak at Surprise Theatre Sunday.

At the Surprise Theatre, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Mr. E. H. Thomson, of Washington, will speak on : "Victory O'er the Grave." The purpose of the I. B. S. A., lectures is said to be the stirring up of a more general interest in individaul Bible study. The lectures are from an unsectarian standpoint, not with an idea of opposing the churches in any good work they may do, but with the hope that some may be more deeply interested in the Bible, because of a clearer understanding of its teachings, previously despaired of, on account of the many contradictory doctrines put forth by the many different denominations. All seats are free, and every one is made welcome.

HINT TO HOUSEKEEPERS.

The residence of Harry Richards, on the south side of Wolfe street, near Fairfax, was entered yesterday afternoon during the absence of Mrs. Richards and her children, and every room in the house entered and their contents scattered to and fro. It is not known at present what portable articles were carried away, as an inventory could not be made immediately.

There are always more or less sneak thieves in Alexandria, and housekeepers should be on the alert.

DEATH OF JOHN DIX.

John Dix, a well-known Alexandrian, died yesterday afternoon. The deceased wac 67 years old. He had until recently been janitor at Armory Hall, and a short time ago one of his eyes was destroyed by the spatter from a cartridge during target practice. A month or so ago he became seriously indisposed and for a time was in a helpless condition in his room in the old City Hotel. He however, recuperated sufficiently to get out. A few days ago he was again stricken, having become helpless, presumably from paralysis, and he lingered until yesterday afternoon

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

REQUEST WILL OF MORGAN.

Virginia House Passes Martha Washington Testament Bill.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 30.—The House of Delegates yesterday afternoon passed the Senate bill requiring the governor to make formal request of J. P. Morgan, of New York, to return to the records of Fairfax county the will of Mrs. Martha Washington, stolen from Fairfax court house in the war, and now by purchase said to be in Mr. Morgan's private museum.

Provision is made in the measure for action should Mr. Morgan refuse.

MANN SIGNS BILL.

Emergency Measure Now Effective—Cox And Ellyson Signed.

Richmond, Jan. 30.—The Weaver bill reducing the tax on bank deposits to 20 cents on the $100 was signed yesterday at 12:30 o'clock. Speaker Cox and President Ellyson affixed their signatures at noon. The measure was rushed through the two houses as an emergency bill, and despite hearings and considerable debate, received very prompt passage.

Safeblowers in Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—For the first time in many years safeblowers operated successfully in Norfolk Wednesday night and M. Marks and Sons, dry goods merchants, on Main street, were the victims. While the entire day's sales were secured by the robbers, the amount has not been made known. Cash was the only thing stolen or disturbed. A machinists' roun dbite and a flash light were left in the store.

As far as the safe-breaking was concerned the job was a complete one. One of the doors was blown off; the inner door was pried open and the strong box was smashed. There was not a penny of the cash left.

Boy's Skull Fractured.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—It was stated at the King's Daughter's Hospital that Linwood Ivy, a son of Norfolk county constable J. Hope Ivy, admitted to the institution with a fractured skull was doing nicely and no apprehension is apparently entertained of a fatal termination.

Young Ivy was struck on the head last Sunday by a brick thrown by Paul Belvin, and as a result of the blow it was found necessary to remove a small portion of the skull bone to relieve pressure upon the brain.

Belvin is under arrest and was arraigned in Justice Duke's court for trial, but owing to the condition of the injured boy the case was continued to February 28.

Skull Fractured in Fall.

Petersburg, Va., Jan. 30.—A. P. Johnson, a well-known citizen of Waverly, is in a serious condition at the Petersburg hospital following an operation Wednesday night. Mr. Johnson was thrown from his buggy near Waverly yesterday afternoon when his horse took fright at an automobile. In falling his head struck a telegraph pole fracturing his skull and rendering him unconscious. He was brought to this city and immediately taken to the hospital.

Mr. Johnson's son was with him when the accident occurred, but escaped without injury. He is 59 years of age.

Dr. Haines stated that a blood clot had formed on the brain and he would not predict the result of the operation.

WILL NOT SUPPORT BILL.

Five of Board of Visitors of University Act Against Medical College Merger.

Charlottesville, Va., Jan. 30.—Five of the nine members of the board of visitors of the University of Virginia, including the rector, yesterday afternoon held a meeting of that body to consider the merger of the medical department of the University of Virginia, and the Medical College of Virginia. The board received the report of the special committee which had been in conference in New York with representatives of the Carnegie foundation and the general education board in regard to the probability that these would endow the merged institution.

After considering this report and other information which was laid before it the board unanimously adopted a resolution declining to support the act proposed to be introduced into the legislature to effect the merger.

The visitors drew up an individually signed statement in which they strongly recommended the amendment of the woman's college bill to insure the establihment of the proposed co-ordinate college on the opposite side of Charlottesville from the university building, and to put the management and control of the new college in the hands of the same board of visitors which serves the University of Virginia.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.

Mother's Dress Catches Fire From Lighted Paper She Gave to Little One.

Danville, Va., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Maggie Dix, who resides on a farm a few miles from the city, met a tragic death a day or two ago when her clothes became ignited and she burned to death. The woman was in the house with her three children, when a little daughter of five years asked her mother to light a paper for her. The woman complied with the request and handed the lighted paper to the child. In a few moments the largest of the three children, a boy, discovered that his mother's skirt was in flames.

Becoming panic-stricken, the woman rushed from one room to another and finally ran out into the yard, her movements fanning the blazing garment until the flames were past subduing. Before her husband could reach her side and make an effort to extinguish the flames the unfortunate woman had all of her clothing burned off except her belt and shoes, and had sustained injuries that left no hope for her life.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Meetze, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well.

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it.

It may be just the medicine you need.

VOTE ON THE ENABLING ACT.

A definite decision to vote on the enabling act next Wednesday was reached yesterday by the State Senate by the narrow vote of 21 to 19. The minority, who are supposed to be in favor of the act, wished an immediate vote, but their proposition was defeated by a majority of one. People familiar with the situation look on yesterday's vote as an indication of the passage of the measure. In other words, they hold that if the wet forces could control 21 votes against the bill they would have been willing for an immediate vote, bringing an end to the measure.

Until next Wednesday the people in this community will remain in a condition of suspense. It is practically admitted by all who have studied the question, even by people who are out-and-out prohibitionists, that Alexandria will be seriously crippled if the State of Virginia goes dry and would gain no compensating return. The thirsty from this city would be able to get all they desire to drink in Washington and a large amount of revenue would leave here.

ANOTHER CRASH IN A DENSE FOG.

The staunch manner in which steamships are constructed renders them practically immune from ordinary storms, but so far, danger from fogs and icebergs is as great as ever.

The terrible fate of the Titanic nearly two years ago, shows that there is still danger to those who go down to the sea in ships.

Dispatches elsewhere in the Gazette tell of an early morning disaster off the Virginia capes, by which forty-seven persons have probably perished. The large passenger steamer Monroe, of the Old Dominion Line, which left Norfolk yesterday evening for Boston, now lies at the bottom of the ocean, and sea weeds are to become the winding sheets of unfortunate passengers and crew. The disaster was caused by a sister ship—the Nantucket—ramming the Monroe during a thick fog.

The running of steamers in a fog is risky, as the history of all navigable waters will show. Several accidents have recently occurred on the Potomac and bay. Fortunately no great loss of life occurred, but there have been several narrow escapes from distressing horrors during fogs and snow storms.

It is a violation of navigation laws to operate steamers during fogs, but the risk is too often taken in this fast age. Such procedures go on for years until some grave catastrophe occurs, when more care is taken for a time, at least.

An unchangeable law is strictly enforced on a trans-atlantic line which has had few accidents to contend with—in a question of doubt adopt the plan of safety. This rule should be followed by all.

YUAN SHI KAI CLINGS TO CONFUCIUS.

A bill prescribing the worship of heaven and of Confucius by the president of the Chinese republic has been passed by the administrative council, which took the place of the Chinese parliament, recently dissolved by President Yuan Shi Kai. The measure was submitted to the council by Yuan Shi Kai himself. It is understood the president's idea is to se, an example to the Chinese nation which he thinks needs the moral upbuilding influence of religion. The president will worship at the Temple of Confucius and at the Temple of Heaven annually in the same way as the Manchu emperor did, but without wearing the diadem. The question of the introduction of a state religion has created considerable controversy in China, Christian missionaries of all sects opposing such a step.

This action will prove a decided setback to many who supposed that the setting up of a republic in the flowery kingdom was tantamount to adopting the Christian religion.

The celestials are difficult to move. Their faith runs back about four centuries beyond the Christian religion, and some of the precepts of Confucius are substantially embraced in the New Testament. The sage when asked for a sentence in a few words which would embrace man's duty, replied. "Don't do to others what you would not have others do to you."

An observant writer has suggested that Confucianism may be the Gospel to the Chinaman, and that Mahometanism properly understood and carried out, contains enough moral teaching to render the Mussulman a fit subject for the kingdom of heaven.

There are many things in the teachings of Confucius which are not carried out in the Occident among races professing civilization and spiritual enlightenment, while the moral code of Mahomet contains much to be studied with profit.

ARLINGTON HOTEL SITE SOLD.

Richmond Syndicate Buys Washington Property for $850,000.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Only two bids were received on the old Arlington Hotel site, which has been sold at public auction. The property was purchased by a Richmond (Va.), syndicate represented by Robert H. McNeill, of this city, and brought $850,000.

The price paid was at the rate of $14.55 a square foot. According to the new assessment the Arlington site is valued at $22 a square foot. A year ago, the Arlington Hotel Company formed for the purpose of erecting a $5,000,000 hotel, paid $1,400,000 for the site and spent approximately $200,000 additional for excavation.

Following the sale Mr. McNeil stated that the property was purchased by the Richmond syndicate with the idea of erecting a large hotel. He said that plans and specifications were now being drawn.

The property is located on Vermont avenue between H and I streets, and contains 53,891 square feet of ground.

Condemn Cape Fort Site.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30. — United States District Attorney, D. Lawrence Groner, has received official instruction from the Department of Justice to proceed with the condemnation of land at Cape Henry which it is proposed by the government to acquire for fortification purposes.

The district attorney will bring the condemnation action in one proceeding, with some ninety odd defendants therein—this being the number of individual property owners affected by the condemnation.

Whether the case will be brought before a jury in Judge Waddill's court, or before condemnation commissioners to be named by Judge Waddill has not been fully determined.

It has been indicated up to this time that the trial will be before a jury and it will likely proceed in this style.

District Attorney Groner has already made up the case in advance and the action will likely be brought in a week or ten days, if not sooner.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

Alexandria People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It is not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Alexandria kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation.

Proof lies in the testimony of Alexandria people.

J. T. Langley, 513 Queen street, Alexandria, Va., says: 'I had a bad back, and I think the whole trouble was caused by a strain. I could not stoop and when I got up in the morning, I could hardly move. I noticed sediment in the kidney secretions. The many good reports I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills led me to get a box at Leadbeater & Sons drug store. They fixed me up in fine shape. During the past few years since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney complaint, I have had no trouble. I repeat the praise I have previously given this remedy."

NEWS OF THE DAY

At 7:30 o'clock last night a blazing meteor of large size sped through the sky earthward, striking in the mountains about 15 miles east of Albuquerque, N. Mex. The meteor struck with terrific detonation, and shook the city with much force. Houses here were shaken, while windows and dishes rattled.

Locked in the air-tight gold vault in the basement of the United States mint in Philadelphia yesterday, when the heavy steel door, fitted with a time lock closed behind him, Clyde M. Taylor, a clerk, was rescued in an almost unconscious condition, after other employees had spent more than a hour drilling a hole through the steel tumblers. Taylor had carried a bag of gold clippings into the vault when the door, which weighs several tons, closed, and the heavy steel bolts set automatically. Fortunately other employees had witnessed the accident, and a powerful steam drill was immediately set to work.

Damage estimated at nearly $200,000 was done by the breaking of the dam of the Horse Creek reservoir near Greeley, Colo., early yesterday morning sending a flood of water over the flats, inundating a strip of land ten miles long by three miles wide. The flood washed out 50 feet of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy Railroad main track and drowned approximately 250 head of cattle. The quick action of Dora Shafer, the 18-year-old daughter of Frederick M. Shafer, living a mile from the dam, saved a Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy westbound train from plunging through a weakened bridge into Box Elder Creek, where the flood was at its worst.

Four hundred federals were killed in the battle of Concepcion del Oro, Zacatecas, or were executed after being captured, according to an official report to constitutionalist headquarters in Matamora yesterday. Dynamite bombs made from cast iron pipes were used with effect by the constitutionalists. The battle lasted 24 hours, the rebels gradually advancing on the city behind barricades and intrenchments which they constructed as they went. The greater loss of life occurred when an overwhelming force of rebels ambushed federal reinforcements from Saltillo.

A dispatch from Rome says that the health of Pope Pius X again is giving much anxiety in Vatican circles. The dispatch adds that efforts to disguise the true state of the Pope's health have failed to hide its seriousness Several days ago reports of the Pontiff's ill health were denied at the Vatican

The Mexican embassy in Washington has issued the following: An effort is being made at present by an important portion of the press of the country to create the impression that the Japanese government has been affording not only moral, but material aid as well, to the Mexican government, by supplying it with munitions of war. While Mexico has long cultivated the friendliest relations with Japan and her people, whom it holds in the very highest admiration, the embassy is authorized to state that the version is without a vestige of truth. The Mexican governemnt, in spite of the almost overwhelming odds against which it has been contending, would not stoop to accept the aid of a foreign nation, however friendly, in crushing the revolt waged in the name of "constitutionalism" against law and order, much less would there be any barter of concessions derogatory to the national honor."

Rev. H.A. Malley, a young Congregational missionary, who has arrived at San Francisco from the Antipodes, asserts that cannibalism exists to a large degree in New Guinea. Babies and little children are the principal victims, according to the missionary, who brought details of the death of the German explorer Werner in the jungle wilds of the island.

VIRGINIAN ROBBED.

Visitor to Baltimore Says Thief Got $176 and His Purse.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 30.—Robbed of a pocket book containing $176 when on his way to this city, Howard Braun, a merchant of Judge, Va., yesterday appealed to the police to aid him in finding some papers that he had in the pocket book. Braun arrived in this city in the morning.

He said that when he retired the window in his stateroom on the steamer Tivoli, was closed. The pocketbook was in his trousers pocket and the garment was hung near the window. When Braun awoke he found the window open and his pocketbook gone.

Overland Model 79

You Think They Are Different—But Are They?

Too many people are fooled or misled by taking bare automobile prices as a positive indication of the intrinsic value of a car. This is exactly the wrong way to go about. Because one article is priced higher than another it does not follow that this article has a greater value.

As a matter of fact there are any number of $1,200 cars which are not, in value, the equal of the $950 Overland.

For instance:

The $950 Overland has a wheel base of 114 inches.

The wheel base of the average $1,200 car is no longer than this—often shorter. So in this respect you get more for $950 than you do for $1,200.

The $950 Overland has a powerful 35 horsepower motor.

No $1,200 car has a larger motor than this. Here is equal value, and in most cases, more value for less money.

The $950 Overland tires are 33 inches x 4 inches---all around.

No $1,200 car has larger tires—Again—equal value—our price $250 less.

The $950 Overland has a complete set of electric lights--throughout—the same as on most $1,200 cars. Some out of date cars still cling to the obsolete gas lamps. In the first instance the $950 electrically lighted Overland is the equal value of the $1,200 car, and in the second instance has more value than the $1,200 (gas lamp) car. In either case our price is $250 less.

Next comes the matter of equipment. The $950 Overland is complete—a jeweled speedometer, top, curtains, boot, windshield, electric horn—everything complete. No $1,200 car has more complete or better equipment.

And so on, throughout the car. Point for point--specification for specification, the $950 Overland is, in every essential respect, the equal of any $1,200 car on the market.

So we warn you. Ignor the prices. Compare the actual facts first. Then compare the facts with the prices and you get the intrinsic value.

There will be 50,000 Overland cars made this year—the largest production of its kind in the world. And every Overland purchaser will save at least 30 per cent, and get a superior car.

BEAR FLEES FROM WOMEN.

Teachers on Way to New York County School.

Coshen, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Miss Margaret Connolly and Miss Laura Fitzgerald, two young lady school teachers who reside here and teach school at Mount Eve, a distance of ten miles from Goshen, encountered and vanquished a large bear Wednesday morning, about [illegible]

The teachers leave Goshen on a train at 5:35 each school day morning. The train is due at Mount Eve shortly before 6 o'clock.

After they had left the train and were on their way to the schoolhouse, they met the bear in the road, and the animal was apparently disposed to dispute their progress. The young ladies were provided with pocket flashlights to enable them to see the path in the dark of the early morning and they flashed these upon the bear, which thereupon retreated up the road, backing away from them until they reached the school-house in safety. The bear was not seen after that and is believed to have wandered into the adjacent woods. The animal has made no further attempt to scrape acquaintance with the young ladies.

TO GET MORE GROUND.

Six Hundred Thousand is Provided to Buy Balance of Block Adjoining.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—The Treasury Department, in a report submitted to the House Committee on Buildings and Grounds yesterday, recommended the purchase by the government of the residue of the block on which the Richmond postoffice is situated, so as to premit the construction of additional quarters to the building. The Treasury Department report is in response to the request made by Representative Montague when he appeared before the committee last week, that the department's recommendation in regard to the matter be secured.

Several members of the committee have expressed to Mr. Montague their desire to visit Richmond and go over the ground before finally authorizing the expenditure of the $600,000 for the purchase of the additional ground, as provided for in the Montague bill.

KILLED KISSING HIS BABY.

Baptist Pastor Stoops; Pistol Falls; Bullet Pierces Brain.

Macon, Ga., Jan. 30.—The Rev. G. E. Tidwell, pastor of a Baptist Church, was killed at his home in East Macon yesterday when a pistol dropped from his pocket and exploded as he was leaning down to kiss his 2-year-old baby.

The minister carried the pistol in his pocket so that his young children might not play with it. The bullet entered his brain. Mr. Tidwell died an hour after being shot.

Negro Gets Eighteen Years.

Newport News, Jan. 30.—Joe Birdson, slayer of Mary Wilkerson, negress, was convicted of second degree murder in the Corporation Court, and sentenced to eighteen years in the State penitentiary. Because the negro successfully eluded the police for three weeks, though never more than twenty miles from the city, the case attracted much attention, and the court room was crowded throughout the trial.

NEGRESS SAVES CHILDREN.

Jumps in Front of Freight Train and Snatches Little Ones From Death.

Greensboro, N. C., Jan. 30.—An act of heroism that commands admiration was that of Lizzie Reid, a negro woman, who a day or two ago probably saved the lives of two 3-year-old white children. The children were those of J. I. Mederais, 657 Chetnut street, and of W. C. Ogburn, 661 Chestnut street. They had strayed away from home with a tiny wagon and pocket playthings for the time being, and had reached the main line of the Southern Railway at a point a few hundred yards north of the Summit avenue crossing.

The negro woman, who was coming through an alleyway from Church street, saw them from a distance and at the same time she saw an in-coming freight train rounding the curve. With quick decision and display of the self-sacrificing spirit, she threw down her bundles, and put out at top speed for the railroad.

She first threw one of the children to the side of the track, and, catching the other in her arms, jumped to safety. One of the children held on to the tiny wagon being pulled. The freight engine smashed the go cart into smithereens. The negress said she did not hear any whistle or bell and the engineer to all appearances did not see the children ahead of him.

The woman then carried the innocent little folks to their homes. Lizzie Reid is about 35 years of age and is married, and by her quick work not only saved the lives of the children, but won the heart-felt gratitude of the parents, and the admiration of all others.

The children had been playing in the front yard of one of the homes a few moments before they had gone to the railway track.

TO IMPROVE HARBOR.

Appropriation for Deepening the James River Included in Emergency Bill.

Washington, D .C., Jan. 30.—Representative Montague has received assurances from several members of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors that the appropriation of $110,000 for the improvement of James river and the construction of a turning basin in Richmond harbor will be included in the emergency appropriation bill for river and harbor work which the committee intends to put through at the present session.

Since he appeared before the committee to urge that the project be taken up at once, Mr. Montague has talked with several of the committee members, and finds that they favor the proposition.

Mr. Frank C. Steward, President,

Dear Sir:

I wish to offer you my hearty congratulations upon the really remarkable success of Steward's Business College. I know of no institution in Washington in the last twenty years that has made such wonderful strides in such a short space of time as your college has. It is possible, however, that when one thoroughly understands your methods that your phenomenal growth will not seem so remarkable, and I believe that as people become to understand it your future growth will be greater than your past and present.

Assuring you of my wishes that my prophecy will come true, I am

Most sincerely yours,
